Thermo Scientific™ Nunc™ Serological Pipettes combine quality, accuracy, and convenience to meet the rigorous demands of daily lab work

- These accurate, disposable, and sterilized plastic pipettes contain a plug to avoid cross contamination
- Available in multiple sizes and packaging options to accommodate a wide range of applications
- Clear, bold, and reverse graduations for easy-to-read fluid volumes and dispensing amounts
- Negative graduations increase pipette's capacity and provide the convenience of accommodating additional sample volume

Thermo Scientific™ Nunc™ 15mL and 50mL conical centrifuge tubes

- Made from high-purity polypropylene resins and molded using state-of-the-art processes; safe alternative to glass without sacrificing accuracy
- Increased traceability with large writing area
- Racked product includes environmentally friendly recyclable plastic rack that reduces landfill waste compared to the traditional foam packaging
